Stay alert, aware when enjoying the World Cup

While the U.S. State Department is reporting that there have been no specific, credible terrorist threats to the FIFA 2006 World Cup, the threat from international terrorist groups at major public events is always a principal concern. This includes the periods immediately before and after these events.

Also, though German security services have been working with a variety of other countries and international agencies to prevent travel of known soccer hooligans, large, emotionally charged sporting events such as World Cup games can be unpredictable and carry the risk of unexpected violent incidents.

Whether you are going to a game, attending a public gathering to watch the games on the big screens, or enjoying the Weindorf or other celebration, remember to remain alert and aware of your surroundings at all times and avoid aggressive individuals or altercations. The German Polizei will maintain a presence at all such gatherings; note their location, and report any suspicious activity immediately.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

Passports Required During World Cup

Community members who plan to travel outside Germany in the next month are advised that they must have their passports, or they will be denied re-entry into the country.

Germany will be imposing border controls for the duration of the World Cup (June 9 to July 9). When crossing German borders all travelers will be required to present their passport in order to enter the country.

Interior Minister Wolfgang Schäuble said Germany will suspend the passport-free travel arrangements of the Schengen Treaty during the 2006 World Cup. Citing the need to minimize risks from hooligans, terrorists and organized-crime gangs, Schäuble informed European Union foreign policy Chief Javier Solana that Germany will reintroduce border checks during the World Cup.

Customs Office Changes

Starting June 26, the 560th Military Police Customs will be changing its name to US Forces Customs. In addition, new operating hours go into effect: 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. Mondays to Wednesdays and Fridays, 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. daily.

Hewlett Packard Camera Recall

Hewlett-Packard is voluntarily recalling the HP Photosmart R707 Digital Camera (CRC:8244253 Item # 493002869) due to fire hazard and offering download fix to repair.

The digital camera can cause certain non-rechargeable batteries, such as the Duracell CP-1, to overheat when the camera is connected to an AC adapter or docking station, posing a fire hazard.

Consumers should stop using the recalled cameras and contact HP as they have developed a firmware update that prevents the camera from applying a charge to a non-rechargeable battery. Consumers can download this update at www.hp.com or contact HP directly. Do not use single-use, non-rechargeable batteries until the firmware has been updated. Consumers are encouraged to update the firmware even if they do not use or intend to use a non-rechargeable battery.

For additional information, visit HP's Web site at www.hp.com or call HP toll-free at (866) 304-7117 between 6 a.m. and 6 p.m. Mountain Time Mondays through Fridays.
